

117TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

S. 3484

To establish the New York-New Jersey Watershed Restoration Program, and for other purposes.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

JANUARY 12 (legislative day, JANUARY 10), 2022

Mr. BOOKER (for himself, Mrs. GILLIBRAND, Mr. MENENDEZ, and Mr. SCHUMER) introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Environment and Public Works

A BILL

To establish the New York-New Jersey Watershed
Restoration Program, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “New York-New Jersey
5 Watershed Protection Act”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 Congress finds that—

8 (1) the New York-New Jersey Watershed,
9 which encompasses all the watersheds that flow into 10 New York-New Jersey Harbor and the associated es-

1 tuaries of that Harbor, such as the Hudson, Mo-
2 hawk, Raritan, Passaic, Hackensack, and Bronx
3 River Watersheds and the Hudson River Estuary, is 4 of great ecological, economic, and cultural impor-
5 tance;

6 (2) the Watershed supports one of the most 7 densely populated and economically important re-
8 gions in the United States;

9 (3) millions of people rely on the Hudson, Mo-
10 hawk, Raritan, and Hackensack Rivers as sources of 11 drinking water;

12 (4) the Watershed supports multiple industries
13 that attract over $60,700,000,000 in annual revenue
14 through tourism, commercial fishing, and rec-
15 reational activities;

16 (5) the New York-New Jersey Harbor—

17 (A) contributes $8,500,000,000 annually
18 in Federal, State, and local tax revenue; and

19 (B) is directly or indirectly responsible for 20 629,000 jobs with $90,500,000,000 in annual 21 personal and business wages;

22 (6) the water resources of the Mohawk River
23 play an important role in tourism, shipping, and re-24 lated businesses and industries in the region, with

1 the tourism industry alone valued at more than 2 $1,340,000,000 annually;

3 (7) the Watershed supports species listed as 4 threatened species or endangered species under sec-
5 tion 4 of the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 6 U.S.C. 1533), including the shortnose sturgeon and 7 the Atlantic sturgeon, as well as those species whose 8 populations are at risk of steep declines;

9 (8) shorelines, marshes, and wetlands through-
10 out the Watershed are critical to flood mitigation 11 and provide important habitat for a diverse array of 12 fish and wildlife;

13 (9) the Hudson River Estuary contains more
14 than 7,000 acres of brackish wetlands that—

15 (A) filter contaminants;
16 (B) mitigate sea level rise;
17 (C) buffer coastal communities from 18 storms; and

19 (D) provide habitat for fish and wildlife;

20 (10) for the past century, the Watershed has 21 faced serious threats to water quality, including haz-
22 ardous waste, legacy pollutants, and partially treated 23 or untreated wastewater;

24 (11) many of the residents that benefit from 25 the Watershed live in communities experiencing envi-

1 ronmental injustice, where access to and enjoyment
2 of fish, wildlife, clean water, and other natural re-
3 sources has been impaired or compromised;

4 (12) the ongoing environmental injustice chal-
5 lenges described in paragraph (11) are compounded
6 by the impacts of climate change, including—

- 7 (A) rising air and water temperatures;
8 (B) increases in incidences of extreme
9 weather;
10 (C) changing precipitation patterns; and 11 (D) rising sea levels;

12 (13) extreme weather events like Hurricanes
13 Sandy, Irene, Lee, and Ida caused loss of life and 14 billions of dollars in damages, and the shared coast-
15 line of New York and New Jersey remains highly 16 vulnerable to frequent storm surges and rising seas;

17 (14) Federal, State, and local governments rec-
18 cognize that natural and nature-based flood hazard 19 mitigation measures, including living shorelines and 20 restoring the function of riparian corridors, are cost-21 effective solutions that provide environmental, social,
22 and economic benefits;

23 (15) restoration activities in the Watershed are 24 supported by several Federal and State programs, 25 and funding for those important programs should

1 continue and complement the establishment of the 2 New York-New Jersey Watershed Restoration Pro-
3 gram under section 4(a), which is intended to build
4 on and help coordinate restoration and protection
5 funding mechanisms at the Federal, State, Tribal,
6 regional, and local levels;

7 (16) managing the Watershed requires leader-
8 ship from the Department of the Interior and co-
9 ordination among other Federal agencies, 2 States,
10 Indian Tribes, hundreds of counties, cities and 11 towns, and millions of property owners;

12 (17) the United States Fish and Wildlife Serv-
13 ice has established a collaborative approach to deliv-
14 ering inclusive, meaningful conservation gains in 15 urban communities through—

16 (A) the Urban Wildlife Conservation Pro-
17 gram; and

18 (B) at landscape scales, the Delaware
19 River Basin Restoration Program; and

20 (18) drawing on existing management plans
21 and existing and ongoing voluntary conservation ef-
22 forts in the Watershed will—

23 (A) improve the efficiency and cost-effic-
24 tiveness of conservation and restoration efforts;

25 and

(B) increase private sector investments and coordination of Federal and non-Federal resources.
